PACE guidelines include scoring change

BY BOB DEMAREE
The PACE review committee met last week to discuss changes to the guidelines to the program that includes alternating scoring to recognize projects with greater private investment in the community. The PACE program has increased the scoring to 7 points for projects (rehabilitation, dilapidated and dangerous) in which personal investment is more than 75%, previously at 5 points. Mayor Bob Courtney emphasized the amount of investment is an important component for the structures that receive PACE grants. He said even though PACE grants emphasize the exterior of the structure, he wants to know total cost of the project that also includes the interior work. “The reason I want to know what the entire project is and how much it costs is how our dollars have been leveraged. If we only look at the scope of work we’re funding, it’s not going to look like we’re making much of an impact.” For a grant that’s $7,500 or $25,000, it’s assisting a project that’s overall cost “is $250,000 or $500,000 or $1 million restoration. And for us that provides a lot of programmatic support when we go through our budgeting process and our Redevelopment Commission on why we need to keep investing in this because it’s having a big impact. What we need is not only for the outside to look pretty, but we want it to be habitable.” Scoring has reduced for unsafe determination for dilapidated projects to 5 points from 10 points. Courtney initially questioned that “because we really want this program to be targeting unsafe and dilapidated structures” so he asked Nicole Schell, the city’s director of planning, the rationale for that. Schell said the reason for the decrease is that the 10 points seemed to be canceling out projects with greater investment, such as the Chandler Hotel and Vintage Lanes. Schell said the reduction ensures unsafe structures will still receive priority funding but won’t prohibit other properties from meeting the minimum. There was discussion about a statement under the “grant term” that says: “The Board of Public Works and Safety may elect to allow Dilapidated Structure grant projects to have a longer initial period than 12 months.” Board member Champ Claussen noted dilapidated projects often require extended time periods because of the complexity and depth of the work to be done. He was concerned about grant recipients who “hurry up to get it done, and cut corners to do it, and then we’re revisiting again sometime in the future.”

City hoping for more interest in Bruhn historic revitalization grants

BY BOB DEMAREE
The city of Madison has received a $325,000 National Park Service (NPS) Paul Bruhn Historic Revitalization Grant, but so far there have only been a handful of applications for the program which assists low-to-moderate income property owners complete exterior rehabilitation or the rehabilitation of dilapidated structures in the historic district. “The program has not received as much interest as we anticipated,” Nicole Schell, the city’s director of planning, said at Monday’s Board of Public Works and Safety meeting. Mayor Bob Courtney said he’s disappointed “because we viewed it initially as a homeowner occupied PACE program that had its own allocation of dollars and didn’t require a match” which is necessary for the PACE program. “We felt in our historic district that there would be a substantial number of applications, and that just hasn’t materialized.” Schell said in the first round there were five applications with the review committee selecting two of those for consideration. One was a structure non-contributing to the historic district that was not approved by the state’s historic preservation office, leaving just one at 408 East Fourth Street in which BPWS approved Monday.

There is currently a second round for Paul Bruhn grants that are being accepted through Sept. 30 in which a few applications have been received. Properties eligible for funding only include those already listed as contributing to Madison’s Historic Register District and Madison’s National Historic Landmark District. “It’s a great resource if we can have more qualified and also manage through it because it also takes a lot more oversight and involvement,” Courtney said. “For a lot of people in the community who said they really wanted this, we did it, it’s got very lackluster attention.” Schell said the city is not allowed to solicit specific homeowners for potential applicants, but others in the community could do that, without city officials being aware of that.

Jefferson County declares burn ban

Joins Switzerland, Trimble counties

BY THE COURIER STAFF
A burn ban for Jefferson County was announced Friday by Jefferson County Emergency Management Director Matt True, joining neighboring Switzerland County in Indiana and Trimble County in Kentucky which had previously issued burn bans. In making the announcement, True said conditions are predicted dry throughout the 10-day forecast by the National Weather Service and National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) Climate Prediction Center. “In consultation with county, city and town fire chiefs, the Jefferson County Board of Commissioners has declared a burn ban,” True wrote in his announcement, “due to an elevated risk of widespread fire hazards and ongoing drought conditions. Until conditions improve and this declaration is rescinded, it is necessary for the safety of Jefferson County’s residents and first responders.”

On Sept. 1, Trimble County Judge-Executive John Ogburn issued a burn ban for Trimble County. On Sept. 5, the Switzerland County Commissioners issued a burn ban. When contacted Monday morning, officials in Carroll County said no burn ban has been declared in Carroll County but officials are monitoring the situation.

MCS advertising $39.6 million budget in 2025

BY BOB DEMAREE
A public hearing on the 2025 budget for Madison Consolidated Schools was held prior to Wednesday's Madison school board meeting with an advertised total of $39,678,350. That includes $23,800,000 in the education fund, $10,628,100 in the operations fund and $5,250,250 in debt service. The advertised tax levy is $13,037,547 with an advertised tax rate of 1.1822. School corporation treasurer Danica Houze anticipates the approved tax rate will end up being $0.9777 for 2025, although that won't officially be known until final approval by the state's Department of Local Government Finance. Last year the advertised tax rate was 1.2792 but it ended up being $0.9818. Board adoption of the budget will be at the Wednesday, Oct. 2, meeting. In other business:

- Approved the hiring of Michele Stuart as the new Trust-Based Relational Intervention (TBRI) coach. The TBRI position encompasses trauma-informed intervention designed to meet the complex needs of vulnerable children. Also, Meghan Welty was hired as the new College and Career Readiness Coach for the school district and Kylie Liddle as school counselor for Madison Consolidated High School. The board also accepted four retirements at the end of this school year at Madison Junior High School — Heather Toomey and Linda Cole as English teachers, Yvonna Imel Scott as Social Studies teacher, and Darrel Courtney as sixth grade teacher.

- Heard comments from Joyce Imel, who during the second half of the 2023-2024 school year served as interim principal at Anderson Elementary. Imel, who has more than 53 years experience in education including 52 years with Madison Consolidated Schools, commended MCS superintendent Dr. Teresa Brown for the administration's communication efforts and engagement with each MCS school. Imel spoke of Brown meeting with her at the Anderson school building and "asking me how everything is going, and if there's anything they can do to support my efforts. I have served with 14 different superintendents" at Madison, "and that was a first. Rarely do we see a central office administrator in our building, much less asking if there was anything they can do to support our efforts." Imel clarified that MCS has had "very caring superintendents" but never with the level of communication and emphasis on collaboration that she experienced with Brown.

- Emma Wynn took over as student representative on the school board.

Madison Wild West Rodeo Show to feature top cowboys

BY BOB DEMAREE

Madison's Wild West Rodeo Show is back for its third year with what Ellie Troutman said will be "the best slate of competitors we have ever had" coming this Friday and Saturday at the Jefferson County 4-H Fairgrounds.

Troutman, co-founder and producer of the rodeo, said rodeo competitors will include Jesse Pope, the 2022 Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA) Bareback Riding World Champion, who is returning for the second consecutive year.

Also, Rocker Steiner, known for his social media presence after an appearance on the television drama "Yellowstone" will be there. Steiner, fifth in PRCA world standings in 2023, grew up in rodeo with his father, Sid, being a 2002 PRCA Steer Wrestling World Champion and his grandfather, Bobby, winning the PRCA Bull Riding World Championship in 1973.

The competition will also include Mike Solberg, husband of Madison rodeo co-founder Tayler Rinehart. "We love he can come compete close to home and we can all cheer for him," said Troutman.

She said the Madison rodeo serves as one of the final opportunities for riders to earn money and points toward qualifying for the National Finals Rodeo to be held in December in Las Vegas.

The Madison rodeo will be from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. on both Friday and Saturday nights in the grandstands at the Jefferson County 4-H Fairgrounds. In addition, there will be a vendor marketplace with free admission for shopping for western art, custom jewelry, clothing open to the public each day from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. Also, there will be a kids zone with inflatables including bounce houses free on both days from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Rodeo events will include saddle bronc riding, barrel racing, bareback riding and bull riding. Pro rodeo announcer Roger Mooney will be back as the master of ceremonies. The event will also feature Ronald Burton, a rodeo clown with more than 20 years experience as an entertainer.

A hometown hero will be announced on Friday. In 2022, Dave Adams received the honor. Last year, the hometown hero was Jonathan Menke, a Madison native who died in 2008 while serving in Iraq.

Troutman said the rodeo is "a labor of love" for her. "I love the art and competition and all the things" that go with the rodeo, including the chance to wear wild west fashion. "It's very near and dear to my heart. I love all the patriotism, and the flags and presentation. It's just good Americana."

Pony Express, parade and more this weekend at Canaan Fall Festival

BY BOB DEMAREE

For one weekend each year, the small community of Canaan becomes a place full of activities and filled with people.

This year's Canaan Fall Festival takes place Friday and Saturday — the 59th year of the event — and includes a parade, music, kids activities, the Pony Express mail ride and much more.

"It's a very traditional type event," said Krista Lee, a member of the Canaan Events and Enrichment Foundation that puts on the Canaan Fall Festival, but an event that attracts a big crowd. Lee said Placer.ai data reported 5,400 people at last year's festival.

The Pony Express, now in its 57th year, is a special part of the Canaan Fall Festival that makes it unique. Local riders will deliver the Pony Express stamped mail from the Canaan post office to the Madison post office. Because they will be carrying official U.S. mail, they must be sworn in, which will occur Saturday at 1 p.m. The riders will begin the 14-mile horse ride to the post office in downtown Madison shortly after that.

To have mail postmarked with the hand-stamped special pictorial cancellation, pick up Pony Express post cards for $1 at the Canaan Post Office and return them before the run.

The parade will Saturday at 10:30 a.m. with high school bands, floats and more. Susie Buchanan, a longtime Canaan resident and retired teacher from Canaan Elementary School, is this year's honorary Mayor.

Registration for the pedal pull contest will be after the parade with the event starting at noon. There will be a frog jumping contest that will take place after the Pony Express.

Live music will be featured each night with Vaguely Familiar performing Friday from 6-10 p.m. and The Mood performing Saturday from 7-10 p.m.

Cowboy Posse Productions will one again perform the "Conflict in Canaan" reenactment on Saturday at noon and 3 p.m., with the show being relocated this year to Kremer Park.

The Chief White Eye art contest is one in which participants paint what they think may be a depiction of the legendary figure from the area in the 1800s. There's an adult category and student competition. There will also be an open contest for any type of art. The art will be on display at the Canaan

Masonic Lodge. Participants will have the option of auctioning off their art. Entries must be delivered to the Masonic Lodge on Thursday from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

There will be a baking contest for cakes, pies (cream or fruit), cobblers and cookies that must be turned at the Ferris Building on Friday from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. and Saturday from 8 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. The judging and auction will be at 11:30 a.m. All entries must be home-made.

The festival is free with the exception of the kids area with inflatables. Wristbands are $15 if purchased Friday and $10 if purchased Saturday. The bouncy houses will be open from 5 p.m. to dark on Friday and after the parade until dark on Saturday.

The event will have 50 vendors with crafts, dried candy, baked good, cotton candy, face painting and more.

On Sunday morning at 11 a.m., there will be a community church service.

The Canaan Fall Festival's governing organization, long called the Canaan Restoration Council, is now named Canaan Events and Enrichment Foundation as part of efforts in maintaining non-profit status.

Hispanic Cultural Awareness Day is Saturday at Eggleston

BY BOB DEMAREE

Hispanic Cultural Awareness Day celebrates its 23rd year Saturday with music, dance, food and an opportunity to gather for everyone to learn more about each other.

This year's event begins at 4:30 p.m. on the grounds of the Eggleston Community Center, 419 East Street, featuring a dance competition for the first time.

The inaugural Hispanic Awareness Day was in 2001, and has continued each year except 2020 when it was canceled due to COVID-19. The festival was held at the Broadway Fountain through 2019 and moved to the grounds at Eggleston in 2021.

Shirley Kloepper, coordinator for La Casa Amiga, was involved in establishing Hispanic Cultural Awareness Day in 2001 and has continued to be involved the event every time since then.

With a greater presence of Hispanics in Jefferson County, Kloepper said that she, along Dr. Bob Canida, who at the time were both members of the city's Human Relations Commission, and former Mayor Al Huntington saw the need to provide more cultural awareness.

"Everybody was identifying Mexican, not Hispanic," in 2001 thinking that all of the Spanish speakers were from Mexico when actually there were Hispanics from many countries, said Kloepper who at the time was teaching English as a Second Language class to the Hispanics. "They all take national pride in their country," she said, noting it was important to recognize where they were from while learning from one another.

Kloepper said she's seen young Hispanics grow up in Jefferson County with families and children, noting specifically one young girl who is now a sophomore in college. "The kids have grown up, and now they're having their own families.

She said all of the Hispanic groups offer something different to the festival with different dances, food and more. Food and information booths will include representatives from Costa Rica, Columbia, Chile, Ecuador, Honduras, Guatemala, Mexico, Nicaragua, Peru and Venezuela.

We just hope they stay in Madison, and some have because they really are a good addition to our community. They're hard workers, and that's what we need is people who want to work." Also, "most of them are very family oriented and also religious, putting God at the center of their families."

She said all of the Hispanic groups offer something different to the festival with different dances, food and more. Food and information booths will include representatives from Costa Rica, Columbia, Chile, Ecuador, Honduras, Guatemala, Mexico, Nicaragua, Peru and Venezuela. There will be several assortments of food including Mexican corn, quesadillas, various kinds of tacos and tamales, and more.

This year's event will also include a dance contest in between performances by Los Mariachi Zelaya of Indianapolis from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. There will also be the traditional childrens dances at 5:30 p.m. and 6:50 p.m.

The festival begins at 4:30 p.m. with a welcome by Madison Mayor Bob Courtney then Becky Anderson will sign "America the Beautiful", a tradition that began in the first year of the festival just days after Sept. 11, 2001 attack on the World Trade Center.

FLOTSAM RIVER CIRCUS

The Flotsam River Circus docked in Madison last Thursday for one of its performances along the Ohio River this summer and hundreds turned out with lawn chairs and golf carts to catch the show at the Madison Boat Ramp.

The floating stage production — it's a nine-member troupe with puppeteers, aerialists, actors and musicians from Seattle, California, New York and Taiwan — will travel about 1,000 miles this summer performing from Pittsburgh on Aug. 16 to Paducah on Sept. 29.

Madison Theatre performs 'Beverly Hillbillies' this weekend

BY BOB DEMAREE

The opening story of the "Beverly Hillbillies" is told in the theme song of the television series that lasted nine seasons and 274 episodes on CBS from 1962 to 1971.

This weekend, Madison Consolidated High School's Madison Theatre takes the story through the end of the television series in a 95-minute play in three acts at Opal E. Sherman Auditorium.

The first act is based on the pilot episode for the series — the story of Jed Clampett, a poor, widowed hillbilly who lives with his daughter and mother-in-law in the Ozark Mountains of Missouri, that's characterized in the beginning of the theme song with the lyrics,

"Come and listen to my story 'bout a man named Jed, a poor mountaineer, barely kept his family fed. And then one day he was shootin' at some food, and up through the ground came a-bubblin' crude."

With oil discovered on Jed's land, an oil company pays millions of dollars for the rights to drill on his land. Jed's cousin, Pearl Bodine, prods him to move to California now that he is wealthy and pressures him into taking her son Jethro along. The family moves into a mansion in upscale Beverly Hills next door to Jed's banker, Milburn Drysdale, and his wife, Margaret, who is appalled by the hillbilly Clampetts.

Act 2 of the play is based on episodes from season 5 titled "The Badger Game" and "The Badgers Return" while Act 3 is based on the last episode of the show in season 9.

For Chelsea Dattilo, who portrays Elly May Clampett, she's excited for her family to see the play. As longtime fans of the TV series because "it will fun for them to see it" on stage.

However, Reilly Kuppler, who portrays Jane Hathaway, said even though the play is based on the television show, there are differences. "It's good to encourage our audience" that even though they may have watched the TV series, there are differences in the play that doesn't make it feel like they're watching a rerun. "It's important to know it's different than the show."

Kuppler noted, "There are a lot of plot twists that you wouldn't expect" that's combined with funny moments. For wherever there's a serious line of dialogue, there's also a comedic line coming.

"It's a funny show. Just come to have a good laugh," said Sophia Reilmann, who plays Emaline Fetty.

"Each character is energetic and larger than large," said Reilmann. "All the actors are drastically different, and I feel like the cast does a very good job of making that difference."

Adavious Gigax is playing Jed while Owain Kelsey is Mr. Drysdale, Sophie Guirguis is Mrs. Drysdale and Xander Bauer is Jethro. Some roles are shared including Granny, portrayed by both Maya Bullock and Piper Fischmer; Elly May, played by both Anna Guzman and Dattilo; and Emaline, played by both Gabby Vest and Reilmann.

Other actors are Cooper Chandler as George Turner, Olivia Russell as Pearl, Savannah Hall as Mrs. Pennyweather, Kolton Lock as Percy, Zuzu Bailey as Gloria, Emma Wynn as Frederika, Tyler Hook as Colonel Foxhall, Jenna Renfrow as Mrs. Stokely-Smythe, Avery Clayton as Mrs.

Oglethorpe, Fiona Magrath as Groovy Monahan and Vincent Lange as Frank Richards. Also, David Coral performs two roles — Brewster and Mr. Oglethorpe. Students playing party guests and firemen include Shealyn Seaver, Katelynn Sharpe, Olivia Russell, Molly Gobel, Luise Suppinger, Lange and Chandler.

Performances will be Friday and Saturday at 7 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Adult tickets are $14 online for adults and $17 at the door. Student tickets for Kindergarten through 12th grade are $5 online and $7 at the door. Adult tickets are $4 off for the two afternoon matinee performances.

Progress on track for River’s Edge sculpture at city’s gateway

BY BOB DEMAREE
Construction and fundraising for the River’s Edge sculpture both are on track based on a report given at Thursday’s meeting of the Madison Public Arts Commission.
Kim Nyberg, chair of the Public Arts Commission and executive director of the Madison Area Arts Alliance (MAAA), said approximately 66% of the $50,000 fundraising goal has been achieved for the sculpture that will be located at the gateway entrance to the city at the Milton-Madison Bridge.

As of Sunday, there had been $16,475 collected through Patronicity, the crowd funding platform. Nyberg said that, combined with off-line contributions, total pledges is actually over $30,000, putting the fundraising total at approximately 66% of the goal.
“That’s very, very exciting,” she said. “We still have a ways to go. We’re not there yet by any means but I love what we’re seeing; that people are giving to this project, and they’re liking it. We have donations from $25 to up to $5,000. I appreciate everybody that is working hard to make that happen.” The Patronicity fundraising ends Tuesday, Oct. 8, at 11 p.m.

Patronicity provides the final funding portion for the project. When the goal is met, the Indiana Housing Community Development Authority through the CreatINg Places program matches the goal one to one.

Every dollar donated will double.
Emily McKinney, the city’s associate director of economic development, said fabrication of the metal pieces of the sculpture is more than 50% complete with the work being done by 900 North Studios of Indianapolis. It is anticipated the River’s Edge sculpture, designed by Indiana artist Beverly Stucker Precious, will be completed by the end of the year.
Nyberg emphasized the Madison Public Arts Commission is in partnership with the Madison Area Arts Alliance on the project with MAAA being the nonprofit that is raising funds for the project, not the city. “Sometimes that gets misunderstood” on how the partnership is working. “The city did a fantastic job at the gateway, and all of the improvements” to the entry way into Madison from the Milton-Madison Bridge. “It’s been an incredible revitalization on the east end of town.”

Suspect in apparent assassination attempt on Trump was near golf course for 12 hours

BY STEPHANY MATAT, ERIC TUCKER, TERRY SPENCER, ALANNA DURKIN RICHER AND COLLEEN LONG
ASSOCIATED PRESS

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — The man suspected in an apparent assassination attempt targeting Donald Trump camped outside a golf course with food and a rifle for nearly 12 hours, lying in wait for the former president before a Secret Service agent thwarted the potential attack and opened fire, according to court documents filed Monday.
Ryan Wesley Routh, 58, faces charges of possessing a firearm despite a prior felony conviction and possessing a firearm with an obliterated serial number. He did not fire any shots. Additional and more serious charges are possible as the investigation continues and prosecutors seek an indictment from a grand jury.

Routh appeared briefly in federal court in West Palm Beach, kickstarting a criminal case in the final weeks of a presidential race already touched by violence and upheaval. Though no one was injured, the episode marked the second attempt on Trump’s life in as many months, raising fresh questions about the security afforded to him during a time of amped-up political rhetoric. It prompted Republican allies and even some Democrats to demand to know how a would-be shooter could get so close.
Routh was arrested Sunday afternoon after authorities spotted a firearm poking out of shrubbery on the West Palm Beach golf course where Trump was playing. He was spotted by a Secret Service agent assigned to Trump’s security detail who opened fire. Routh sped away before being captured by law enforcement in a neighboring county, the authorities said.

Body camera footage posted Monday on Facebook by the Martin County sheriff’s office showed Routh’s arrest. The video shows him walking backward with his hands over his head on the side of a road before being handcuffed and led away by law enforcement.
Underscoring the level of planning involved, Routh is believed to have been positioned at the tree line of the golf course from about 1:59 a.m. to 1:31 p.m. Sunday, according to an FBI affidavit that cites cellphone data. A digital camera, a loaded SKS-style rifle with a scope and a plastic bag containing food were recovered from the area where Routh had been standing, according to the affidavit.

Coming just weeks after a July shooting at a Pennsylvania campaign rally in which Trump was wounded by a gunman’s bullet, the latest assassination attempt accelerated concerns that violence continues to infect American presidential politics. Both President Joe Biden and Vice President Kamala Harris, Trump’s challenger in the November election, denounced the thwarted attack, with Harris saying in a post on X: “I am glad he is safe. Violence has no place in America.”
“We will work tirelessly to ensure accountability, and we will bring every available resource to bear in this investigation,” Attorney General Merrick Garland said in a statement.
Authorities did not immediately reveal any new details about Routh’s background or allege a particular motive in charging documents. But his large online footprint suggests a man of evolving political viewpoints, culminating in an apparent disdain for Trump and intense outrage at global events concerning China and especially Ukraine.

“You are free to assassinate Trump,” Routh wrote of Iran in an apparently self-published 2023 book titled “Ukraine’s Unwinable War,” which described the former president as a “fool” and “buffoon” for both the Jan. 6, 2021, Capitol riots and the “tremendous blunder” of leaving the Iran nuclear deal.
Routh wrote that he once voted for Trump and must take part of the blame for the “child that we elected for our next president that ended up being brainless.”
He also tried to recruit fighters for Ukraine to defend itself against Russia, and he had a website seeking to raise money and recruit volunteers to fight for Kyiv.

Voter records show he registered as an unaffiliated voter in North Carolina in 2012, most recently voting in person during the state’s Democratic primary in March.
Routh also made 19 small donations totaling $140 since 2019 to ActBlue, a political action committee that supports Democratic candidates, according to federal campaign finance records.
One of the two counts he faces alleges that he illegally possessed his gun in spite of multiple felony convictions, including two charges of possessing stolen goods in 2002 in North Carolina. The other charge alleges that the serial number was obliterated and unreadable to the naked eye, in violation of federal law.

PACE

Courtney said he agrees many of the dilapidated projects “are really, really hard, and really, really expensive, and dilapidated probably doesn’t go far enough to describe the condition that some of these properties are in.” He suggested there should be an option for two years completion for those type of projects with an option for an extension. “I think we should be open early on to agreeing, with perimeters, that we know it’s going to take you two years to do this project, and set that expectation upfront.”
For properties that have been deteriorating for long periods of time, it’s going to take longer to restore them, he said. “You cannot reverse that level of deterioration in a quick period of time,” he said. Courtney suggested having the flexibility to “consider the facts and circumstances. Every property is different, and the facts and circumstances should really be driving our decision-making versus the box.”

Claussen said in determining a more accurate timeline for those more severely dilapidated projects “it helps the entity invested” by providing a more realistic approach and communicates better to the community about the necessary timeline.
Courtney said Madison continues to have “an enormous universe of dilapidated structures, unsafe, that have to be dealt with. And you’ve got to come into it with more flexibility.”
He also talked about vacant and abandoned properties in which property owners have no intention to invest, which there is currently work underway on an ordinance to address those situation and “hopefully incentivize them” with code enforcement pressure.

He said vacant and abandoned properties provide “negative elements” that make them “horrible” for the neighborhoods where they are located. There are structures in the city that “have not had running water for 10 to 20 years, and they’ve just sat there” as those properties deteriorate.
Even worse are unsafe properties that are still inhabited. “We’re trying to get to the point through incentives or enforcement that property owners need to make sure at a minimum they are ensuring minimum housing standards so that people that are living there aren’t living in squalor, and unfortunately we have slumlords in town,” Courtney said.

One of the updates was in anticipation of the upcoming maternity leave for Schell that replaces “director of planning” with “PACE grant program staff,” to allow Brenna Haley, the city’s historic preservationist, to perform that task while Schell is away.

Another change includes language that states: “If a grant recipient fails to comply with PACE program guidelines and/or the grant agreement during an active grant, the Board of Public Works and Safety may restrict the recipients’ eligibility status to apply for a future grant for a period up to five years.”

The two PACE target areas for 2025 will be Walnut Street in downtown Madison and Pinehurst Avenue on the hilltop.
The is no funding available for PACE through the end of the year with the program to begin awarding grants again after the beginning of 2025.

GRANTS

The program must be closed out by September of 2025 but Schell said the city can request an extension, which she anticipates will be done.
The Paul Bruhn $20,000 grant application approved was to Marcella Brierly at 408 East Fourth Street for removal of aluminum siding and restoration of what’s underneath if still in good condition, or replacement with LP smart siding. The project would also involve restoring the original windows and repairing the chimney.
Schell said applications must still be approved by the National Park Service, and must also consider how much work can be done for $20,000. She said bids must be received from contractors on the work to be done then from that, it will be determined what work can be supported from that $20,000 amount.
“To me, the most important element of this house is removing the siding,” and then replacing or repairing, Courtney said.
In other business, BPWS withdrew a PACE $25,000 dilapidated structures application for 524 Jefferson Street that had been earlier submitted from Tirrie Jenkins, president of Madison Christian Health and Development Services Inc., the non-profit that owns the structure.

Jenkins is currently focusing efforts on 705 Walnut Street, also owned by Madison Christian Health and Development Services, and will submit another application for the Jefferson Street property when she’s ready to move forward with it.
Jenkins updated that work is underway at 705 Walnut Street to ensure the masonry is done correctly, with painting of the structure beginning this week.
In other PACE business, a $12,500 final payment was approved on a $25,000 dilapidated structures grant for 523-525 West Street to Marilyn Hance, and payment of two $7,500 rehabilitation grants — one at 407 West Second Street to Bill and Susan Ohlendorf and one at 209 East First Street to Shari Pahls.
In other business, the board:
• Approved a joint use and maintenance agreement with the Indiana Department of Transportation at First and Harrison streets where the River’s Edge sculpture will be placed once it is completed. The agreement involves an area that is in the state’s right of way. “They have given us permission to put the art in,” said Deputy Mayor Mindy McGee, noting that when the current bridge approach was created by the Indiana Department of Transportation, it was intended that art would be placed there, with the base being part of that agreement.

• Approved updating Madison Police Department’s standard operating procedures on cell phones now that there are city-issued phones, requiring that only those phones may be utilized for official city business. In the past officers have been allowed to use their personal cell phones for video, audio or photos of evidence, but now they must only utilize their city-issued phone.
“That will make it easier if a police officer leaves the department for any reason, we’ll have that evidence on that device,” said Madison Police Chief Shawn Scudder. He said it will also prevent having a personal cell phone subpoenaed into a courtroom.
• In a follow up to earlier concerns about an unmarked blind corner at Presbyterian Avenue and Mill Street, BPWS member David Carlow said that a “sharp curve” sign has been placed on Presbyterian Avenue.
• Approved a State Revolving Fund disbursement of $3,148 to Commonwealth Engineers for the water infrastructure project.

Tate steers Goodman/Miss Madison to team's 12th National Championship

Peabody claims 2024 Gold Cup

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Andrew Tate couldn't secure the APBA Gold Cup, but he succeeded in bringing home the National High Points Championship to Madison with a strong showing aboard the U-91 Goodman Real Estate/Miss Madison on Mission Bay in San Diego on Sunday.

A disqualification for driving into the safety zone before the Final Heat took Tate out of contention in the Gold Cup final, but his fourth top qualifying award and three preliminary heat wins were enough to secure Miss Madison Racing's 12th National Championship, all since 2008.

"Congratulate the city of Madison (Indiana) for sure. A lot of love and support back there in the Midwest," said Tate. "I'm happy to be a part of it and this is something special that we have here. I'm glad I could do one of the two jobs that we came out here to San Diego to do."

The Miss Madison Team was first formed in 1961 but it wasn't until 2008 that it won its first national crown, when Steve David drove the Oh Boy! Oberto to victory. David also won titles in 2009, 2010 and 2012 before handing the reins over to Jimmy Shane, who drove the Oberto and Miss HomeStreet Bank to crowns in 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2019, 2021 and 2022. Tate, who halted that Miss Madison run by winning the title in 2018 for Delta/Realtrac, joined the Miss Madison team a year ago and wrestled the championship away from J. Michael Kelly and the Beacon Electric team this year. Tate's hopes at adding an APBA Gold Cup title to the weekend were thwarted before the start. He drove on the inside of the course during the warm-up period which led to his disqualification.

BOYS SOCCER ROUNDUP

Switzerland boys knock off Greensburg, 2-0

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Switzerland County scored a 2-0 win over Greensburg at home in boys soccer on Saturday.

The Pacers, who lost to Greensburg 2-1 last season, did a good job of shutting down the Pirates' career scoring leader, Cy Miller, to post their sixth clean sheet of the year.

"We got contributions from not only our defense but also our midfield and frontline," Switzerland coach David Todd said. "This was a game in which we knew we had to sacrifice some offense by allowing our wing players to be a little more defensive minded. We felt that we controlled the tempo of the game and that we beat the Pirates to a majority of 50/50 balls. At the half the score was 0-0 but we felt that it was just a matter of time until we found the back of the net.

Switzerland got what proved to be the winning goal early in the second half when Cooper Todd connected on a penalty kick. A few moments later, Ashton Purvis scored off a Todd assist for a 2-0 lead. The Pacers then shut down Greensburg the rest of the way for the win.

"This was a quality win that we will use as a barometer of where we are and what we still need to do," Coach Todd said. "It was a complete team effort."

Switzerland, now 7-1 overall on the season, traveled to Milan on Monday. The Pacers travel to South Ripley on Saturday.

MADISON BOYS HAMMER DEARBORN

Madison had little trouble with South Dearborn, rolling to an 8-2 win in boys soccer Thursday on the road.

Henry Schmidt and Vincent Lange each scored two goals for the Cubs with Griffin Schwartz, Kyle Roney, Wyatt Overpeck, Bode Heckler each scoring one. Schmidt also had two assists with Heckler, Lange, Brady Lock and Graham Klein each providing assists.

Madison, now 5-1-1 on the season, travels to Batesville on Tuesday in a clash of potential sectional rivals and heads to Seymour on Thursday. Madison then travels to Corydon on Saturday.

SOUTHWESTERN BOYS GAIN DRAW

Class A No. 19 Southwestern (Hanover) finished in a 2-2 tie with Class A No. 9 Southwestern (Shelbyville) in a boys soccer clash between two ranked teams from the same sectional Friday in Hanover.

Adith Arunsanhar scored both goals for the Rebels with Connor Johnson providing assists on both.

Southwestern (Hanover), now 4-2-1 on the season, traveled to Shawe on Monday and hosts South Ripley on Wednesday. The Rebels then host Rising Sun on Friday.

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

Madison football turned the ball over on downs on its first possession of the game but was not stopped again, rolling to a 58-14 win over Carroll County in an intrastate battle Friday night in Carrollton.

The Cubs recovered a fumble in Carroll territory on the first possession of the game but went four-and-out in what proved to be the only thing that went against Madison until the second half.

In between, the Cubs got three touchdowns by Jake Dyer (two on returns) and two more by Joseph Stanley to blow the game open and roll to their second win of the season.

"It was a great week of practice. They really put forth effort during the practice week and we knew that we would be ready for the night," Madison coach Charles Benintende said. "We played a lot of people tonight. I think we ended the game with seven or eight freshmen on the football field. So it was a great win. Kudos to coaching staff and scout team this week."

After Madison (2-2) turned the ball over on downs on its first possession of the game, Dyer set the Cubs up nicely on their next possession with a 24-yard punt return, a precursor of what was to come.

Stanley scored Madison's first touchdown on a 24-yard pitch-and-catch from quarterback Matt McCarty that saw the junior weave through the defense for the score. James Madison's Joseph Stanley (5) scores a touchdown in front of Carroll County's Landon Supplee (8) on Friday in Carrollton.

Schafer added the two-point conversion for an 8-0 lead.

After Madison forced a punt, McCarty hit Dyer on a short pass and Dyer turned it into a 57-yard touchdown score to push the lead to 14-0.

Carroll County (0-4) answered with a 7-yard quarterback keeper by Parker Mumphrey and Danny Roque added the extra point to cut the lead to 14-7. But the rest of the game belonged to the Cubs.

Dyer broke loose on a 76-yard kickoff return for a touchdown on the ensuing kick and after a defensive stop, Dyer struck again, this time on a 74-yard punt return for the score. Schafer added the two-pointer after both touchdowns and Madison led 30-7 with 5:20 left in the second quarter.

An interception on the next possession set Madison up with a short field and Stanley cashed in with a 16-yard touchdown. Tatyem Anderson got the two-pointer and the Cubs led 38-7 at halftime.

Carroll quarterback Mumphrey was injured late in the second quarter and the Panthers were forced to go with sophomore backup Treavin Shovlin. The two teams traded interceptions before Shovlin hit Karson Vaught on a 20-yard score midway through the third quarter to cut the lead to 38-14.

Madison added another score when Dyer connected with a streaking Schafer for 49 yards and the touchdown. Later in the third quarter, McCarty found Quincy Reynolds on a short pass and the senior turned it into a 68-yard touchdown score for the final margin.

The Cubs shot a 184 to beat Seymour by 13 strokes and Jennings County, which had a 219.
"After yesterday's rough match, I felt the ladies were putting too much pressure on themselves to perform. These ladies are good, but they try so hard to be good; I think it was compounding bad play," Madison coach Jake Shockley said. "Coach (Amanda) Detmer-Leary and I asked them to play with confidence and to be the players we know they are, and they responded in kind."

She has shot under 36 in tournaments with the holes out of order, and she shot 36 on a par 35 last year, but in a nine-hole match, this was her first."

Switzerland County's Alex Bailey (14) tries to outrun Milan's Dylan Offill (25) and Carson Ellis during Friday's game in Vevay. The Pacers (3-1) took their first loss of the season 41-14.

Milan pulls away in second half to knock off Switzerland

BY ADAM PIETRYKOWSKI

Switzerland County football rolled into Friday night undefeated, but the Pacers did not leave the field that way after falling to Milan 41-14 at home.

The Pacers hung tough with Milan early, but faded late with the final score more lopsided than the game had played.

The game began with a highlight throw and catch from Milan, a 48-yard pass completion from Wyatt Marsh to Hayden Poole. Milan's passing game was an advantage for the Indians throughout the evening, and gave the visitors an edge in what was a very physical matchup.

On Milan's next play, the Indians capped off the quick drive when Austin Green ran it in from two yards out to give the Indians a quick 6-0 lead.

The Pacers (3-1) took the ball on the next possession and marched downfield, eventually capping that drive with a 19-yard touchdown run by Matt Young. The extra point by Ethan McClellan was good and the Pacers held a 7-6 lead with 4:51 remaining in the first.

Milan (2-2) took its next possession, and with the help of a 3-yard pass to Grant Langferman, were quickly able to score again. They also completed the 2-point conversion to retake the lead 14-7 with 34 seconds left in the first quarter.

The Pacers were moving the ball down the field on their next possession when that drive stalled and a missed field goal attempt turned the ball over to Milan. However, on the very next play, Switzerland County's senior linebacker Hunter Smith intercepted a pass on the sideline to give the ball back to his offense.

The Pacers' rushing attack came to life with a big run from Alex Bailey to move the ball first and goal. Kolvin Beck then powered the ball in from one yard out and the Pacers pulled even with Milan 14-14.

Pacers head coach Ryan Jesop said he was "proud of the resiliency our guys showed today, the score may not reflect it, but our players never stopped grinding out there. These guys are fighters, and they have a lot more success in front of them this year."

The following kickoff was a short kick to the Milan 32 that was taken on one hop by Caydin Davidson and returned 68 yards for a touchdown. Switzerland County blocked the extra point but Milan was back on top 20-14.

When the Pacers got the ball back they managed a quick first down, but then turned the ball over on downs at midfield. That set up Milan near midfield with just over two minutes left in the half. The Indians hit on a big pass down the sideline, and then ran in a quarterback draw from 8 yards out to push the score to 26-14 going into half-time.

Both teams traded defensive stops to open the second half, but a botched snap on a punt once again set Milan up deep in Pacer territory. However, the Switzerland defense rose to the occasion when Matt Young forced a fumble that was recovered by Matt Markee at the 2-yard line. Unfortunately, a bobbled snap while pinned against the end zone on the next play resulted in a Milan safety and the Indians led 28-14.

Switzerland's offense was unable to muster another scoring drive while Milan tacked on two more touchdowns in the fourth quarter for the final 41-14 score.

Switzerland County (3-1) will play at Owen County (3-1) Friday night in Owenton, Kentucky. The Rebels are coming off a 49-0 win over Trimble County on Saturday.

MADISON

“When you lose an athlete of (Mumphrey's caliber), it kind of takes your team down. Then we lose our starting center in the middle of the game, too. It just kind of trickles down,” Carroll coach Joshua Smith said. “What we take from that is we continue to build on our foundation. I was thankful that our guys didn't lay down tonight. We fought. We fought till the end. We're fighting. We're growing. There was a lot of positives tonight.”
Dyer had a monster game for the Cubs. Although he only caught two passes for 60 yards and a touchdown, he had 291 yards on kickoff and punt returns with the two touchdowns and threw for another.
“I don't think they're going to kick to him next week,” Benintende said with a smile.
Madison finished with 307 yards total offense with McCarty completing 6-of-9 passes for 216 yards with Reynolds catching two passes for 74 yards.

Carroll County had 240 total yards. Vaught did the most damage for the Panthers, catching nine passes for 132 yards and a score.
The 58 points is the most Madison has scored in a game since a 67-0 victory over Salem in 1972 and the second-most the Cubs have ever scored in a game.
Madison returns home for the first time in three weeks when it hosts Jennings County in the annual Battle of the Railroad contest. Jennings, now 0-4, lost 62-7 at Columbus East on Friday.
The Panthers have been outscored 183-38 on the season but they beat Madison 54-26 a year ago in North Vernon.
Carroll travels to Anderson County next week. The Bearcats, 2-2, are coming off a 44-42 loss to Henry County in Lawrenceburg.

Burrow, Bengals bumming after another loss to Chiefs

BY DAVE SKRETTA
ASSOCIATED PRESS

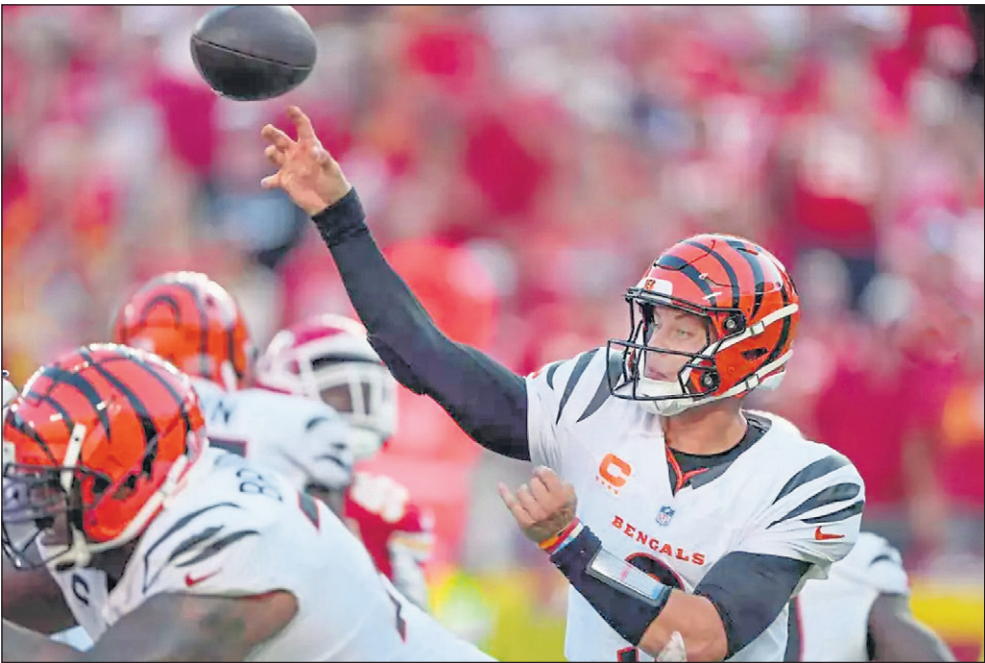

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Joe Burrow and the Cincinnati Bengals have walked out of Arrowhead Stadium both elated and dejected over the years. Most of the time it has been January, and they have been playing the Kansas City Chiefs for a spot in the Super Bowl.

There wasn't that same sort of finality on Sunday. But another last-second loss was brutal in its own way.

The Bengals had fought and rallied and fought some more to take the lead on Evan McPherson's fourth field goal with just under 10 minutes to go. And after their defense had forced Kansas City to punt, it was on the verge of another big stop, when a penalty on safety Daijahn Anthony inside the final minute kept the Chiefs' own comeback hopes alive.

A few plays later, Harrison Butker kicked a 51-yard field goal as time expired to give Kansas City a 26-25 victory.

"It hurts," Bengals coach Zac Taylor admitted, "but I'm really proud of the way we fought. We put ourselves in some really good situations in both halves. The defense getting those takeaways was critical. I'm disappointed that we lost. It was an emotional loss for us. But at the same time, I like where our team's mental state is right now."

Cincinnati Bengals quarterback Joe Burrow throws during the second half of an NFL football game against the Kansas City Chiefs on Sunday in Kansas City, Mo.

It was an especially emotional game for Bengals star Ja'Marr Chase, who had to be held back from referee Alex Kemp at one point in the fourth quarter after he thought a penalty should have been called for a hip-drop tackle on him.

It was Burrow who physically dragged his wide receiver away as Kemp threw a flag for unsportsmanlike conduct.

"It's just simply abusive language toward a game official. That's all it was," Kemp said after the game. "There was really no interpretation. I'm not going to repeat to you what he said, but there was no interpretation with the language that he used."

Kemp said Chase crossed a line when it became "profanity used by grown men versus direct, personal, abusive language towards a game official. That's the line. When that line gets crossed, we simply can't let that happen in pro football."

Chase refused to discuss the penalty in the postgame locker room, saying only: "It doesn't feel great losing."

"It's OK to be emotional," Taylor said. "I can't see everything that's said or done, so it's better that I not comment on it."

The Bengals still have 15 games ahead of them, but they are already in a deep hole. Their surprising loss to the Patriots in their season opener means they are 0-2, and should Taylor manage to get them turned around and into the playoffs, they now face the prospect of Kansas City holding the tiebreaker over them.

That could mean another matchup in Arrowhead Stadium. Butker's kick on Sunday was the same direction, and almost the same distance, as the 45-yarder he hit against the Bengals for a 23-20 victory in the AFC championship game on Jan. 29, 2023.

There were certainly bright spots for Cincinnati, especially after its performance last week against New England.

Burrow looked much better throwing the ball, finishing with 258 yards passing and two touchdowns. Most importantly, he did not seem to be affected by his bothersome wrist in his second game since having surgery on it.

Burrow did fumble the ball, though, and Chamarri Conner returned it 37 yards for a second-half touchdown.

"I gifted them six points," Burrow said, "so that was frustrating."

Both of his touchdown passes went to Andrei Iosivas, who came through as Tee Higgins missed another game with a hamstring injury. Iosivas and tight end Mike Gesicki, who had seven catches for 91 yards, also helped make up for a poor game from Chase, who was limited to four catches for 35 yards and had the silly unsportsmanlike conduct penalty.

That flag was thrown after Chase's reception had set up a manageable third down midway through the fourth quarter.

The 15-yard penalty pushed the Bengals back to third-and-22 at the Kansas City 45, and after a 10-yard pass to Gesicki, the Bengals had to kick a field goal for a 25-23 lead with just over five minutes left in the game.

Ultimately, penalties were a big reason why the Bengals came undone. They had eight of them for 79 yards. And while the one against Chase was important, the one against Anthony on fourth down in the final minute was crippling.

"We've been here before, unfortunately. We know what this feels like, and we know it's a long season," Taylor said. "We know we can get ourselves out of it. Stick together. Get our emotions in check and come back (next week) and play a great game."

Georgia survives Kentucky

BY GARY B. GRAVES
ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Neither Georgia players nor coach Kirby Smart doubted they would be the last ones standing in a dogfight with Kentucky.

It just took the top-ranked Bulldogs longer than expected to prove it. Much longer.

Branson Robinson rushed for a 3-yard, go-ahead touchdown early in the fourth quarter, and Georgia overcame a lethargic performance to rally past and then hold off Kentucky 13-12 on Saturday night.

The Bulldogs (3-0, 1-0 Southeastern Conference) struggled to find continuity on either side of the ball and trailed 9-3 early in the third quarter against a Wildcats squad intent on rebounding from their own flat effort in a 31-6 home loss to conference-rival South Carolina. Peyton Woodring's 30-yard field goal late in the third quarter got Georgia within three before the 'Dawgs followed with their longest drive of the night at just the right time.

Trevor Etienne's 12-yard run, 11-yard reception and 8-yard rush got the Bulldogs to the Kentucky 29. The Florida transfer then broke right for a 17-yard run to the 11, stepping out of bounds as he tip-toed down the sideline trying to reach the end zone. Robinson took it in from there three plays later for Georgia's first lead at 13-9. "Trevor was gassed and we sent Branson in there," coach Kirby Smart said. "He had a little juice, makes people miss and (it was) a really physical run."

The Wildcats weren't done, answering with Alex Raynor's 51-yard field goal to get within a point. His school-record 55-yard kick gave Kentucky the initial lead, and he added two more from 32 and 40 yards for an advantage that held for more than three quarters — though not enough to put Georgia away. Kentucky (1-2, 0-2) got the ball one final time at its 20 with 9 seconds left but could only gain 17 yards on two plays before time ran out.

"So proud of the resiliency our kids showed," added Smart, whose team beat Kentucky for the 15th consecutive time. "They never flinched. We thought this would be a blow-by-blow game. We talked all week about blow by blow, delivering more blows than them. We said the first chop of the tree doesn't chop the tree down. It takes sometimes 272 ax chops, and it took every single one tonight to get the job done."

Etienne rushed 19 times for 79 yards while Robinson, a sophomore who missed last season with a torn anterior cruciate ligament, had five yards on two carries. Quarterback Carson Beck completed 15 of 24 passes for 160 yards, including with his longest completion of 33 yards to Dominic Lovett with 2:45 left. That put the Bulldogs at midfield and provided breathing room in a game where nothing came easy.

Georgia's defense overcame the absence of several players to ultimately make it harder for Kentucky. The Wildcats were held without a touchdown for the second consecutive game and became the 'Dawgs' fourth consecutive opponent unable to reach the end zone dating back to last season. The Bulldogs have yielded just 18 points through three games.

Kentucky quarterback Brock Vandergriff, who transferred from Georgia after backing up Beck last season and Stetson Bennett during the Bulldogs' two national title runs, completed 14 of 27 for 114 yards but was sacked three times. Two came consecutively in the second quarter, the second resulting in a strip fumble by Raylen Wilson and recovered by Damon Wilson II at the Kentucky 23 and setting up Woodring's game-tying 34 yard field goal.

Rourke passes for 4 TDs as IU spoils UCLA's Big Ten debut, 42-13

BY JOE REEDY
ASSOCIATED PRESS

PASADENA, Calif. — Saturday night was supposed to be a showcase game for UCLA.

It was the Bruins' first game in the Big Ten with it being nationally televised in prime time from the Rose Bowl.

Instead, it was Kurtis Rourke and Indiana who made an emphatic statement.

Rourke passed for 307 yards and four touchdowns as the Hoosiers jumped out to a 14-0 lead midway through the first quarter and romped to a 42-13 victory over the Bruins to spoil their Big Ten debut.

"I know (the win) will get a lot of people's attention," said Indiana coach Curt Cignetti, who became the first Hoosiers coach to begin his tenure with three straight wins since Bill Lynch in 2007. "We went in there and wanted to play physical, tough and nasty and we did."

The 29-point victory largest in the Big Ten for the Hoosiers (3-0, 1-0) since they beat Northwestern 34-3 in 2019.

Besides the ceremonial significance, it was UCLA's worst loss in a home opener since being shut out 35-0 by Stanford in 2010.

"This hurts. I'm a Bruin through and through. I don't want to get emotional, good or bad, but it hurts," Bruins first-year coach DeShaun Foster said. "That's not something ... It's not acceptable, and we're gonna fix it."

Rourke completed 25 of 33 passes and was 9 of 9 for 128 yards on third down.

It is the 10th 300-yard game of Rourke's career, with the previous nine coming at Ohio University, where he was the Mid-American Conference's Offensive Player of the Year in 2022.

"There were definitely a lot of flashes since January and spring ball that we could be a good team," Rourke said. "We had a lot of really good pieces in order to compete this year, and it's great to see that come out and show it and be able to let everybody know that we are to be taken seriously."

After rallying for a 16-13 win at Hawaii on Aug. 31, the Bruins (1-1, 0-1) again found themselves in a double-digit hole in the first half, but this time couldn't recover.

Indiana scored on its opening possession for the second straight game when Miles Cross caught a 2-yard touchdown pass in the back of the end zone to complete a 75-yard, 12-play drive.

UCLA quickly turned it over when quarterback Ethan Garbers fumbled and Indiana defensive lineman Mikail Kamara recovered at the Bruins 17. "I think it's pretty simple. It just comes down to at the end of the day, we didn't execute as an offense like we would like. We had a bunch of self-inflicted wounds, including our first play of the game," said Garbers, who was 14 of 23 for 137 yards and a pair of turnovers (one fumble, one interception)..

Richardson throws 3 INTs as Colts lose to Packers 16-10

BY STEVE MEGARGE
ASSOCIATED PRESS

GREEN BAY, Wis. — Anthony Richardson figures to produce numerous electrifying plays and youthful mistakes in his first full season as a starter.

The Indianapolis Colts quarterback delivered too many of the latter on Sunday as the Colts remained winless after losing 16-10 to the Green Bay Packers. Richardson threw three interceptions, the last coming when Evan Williams picked off his Hail Mary pass on the game's final play. "You can't win any game with multiple turnovers," Richardson said. "That's on me."

Richardson went 17 of 34 for 204 yards with one touchdown pass to go along with the three INTs. He rushed for 37 yards on four carries.

The fact the Colts still had a chance in the closing seconds is a testament to Richardson's playmaking ability.

Richardson showcased his extraordinary athleticism by staying inbounds long enough to run 11 yards down the sideline on a fourth-and-10 play to keep the Colts in the game. On the next play, the Colts scored their lone touchdown on Richardson's 4-yard pass to Alec Pierce with 1:47 left in the game.

Indianapolis had the ball on its own 41-yard line for the game's final play, but the Packers weren't taking anything for granted after Richardson already had thrown a 60-yard touchdown pass to Pierce that traveled 63 yards in the air a week ago when the Colts fell 29-27 to the Houston Texans. "The guy has a freaking cannon," said Green Bay linebacker Eric Wilson, who had one of the Packers' interceptions. "He put that on show the first game of the year."

Those types of plays explain why the Colts have so much confidence in their future as long as Richardson can stay healthy. After the Colts selected the former Florida quarterback with the No. 4 overall pick in the 2023 draft, Richardson played just four games as a rookie before undergoing season-ending shoulder surgery.

But the Colts also will have to live with the mistakes he's going to make due to his relative inexperience. Richardson entered this season having started just 13 games in college and four in the pros.

His mistakes proved costly Sunday as the Colts failed to score on three separate trips to Packers territory. Indianapolis trailed 13-0 in the third quarter before its comeback attempt fell short.

"We just started out slow," Richardson said. "It's frustrating when you have a decent week of practice, you execute a certain way in practice, you game plan a certain way, and then you get to the game and some things are switched up and you adjust a little too late."

Richardson's first turnover came after the Packers took a 10-0 lead on their first two possessions. The Colts had reached Green Bay's 40-yard line when Richardson encountered pressure and Xavier McKinney picked off an overthrown pass intended for Pierce.

With the Packers leading 16-3, the Colts again reached Green Bay's 40 early in the fourth quarter. This time, Eric Wilson picked off a pass by Richardson that was intended for Michael Pittman.

"The first pick, that was just me," Richardson said. "I saw A.P. coming across the field and I just released it a little too high. The second one, also me, I thought the backer was going to slide underneath the route to A.D. ... The backer made a good play."

Richardson didn't get much help.

One week after allowing 213 yards rushing to Houston, the Colts gave up 261 yards on the ground, including 237 by halftime. Trey Sermon got stuffed for a 4-yard loss on third-and-1 from Green Bay's 28 to open the fourth quarter, and Matt Gay followed that up by missing a 50-yard field goal.

Now the Colts have dug themselves an early hole as they chase the playoff berth that has eluded them since a 2020 appearance in the wild-card round. "Honestly, I'm not worried," Richardson said. "We know that we're a way better football team than we are presenting right now. Like I said, we've got a lot to look forward to. We've got 15 more guaranteed, God's willing we can get more. But we've just got to correct the little things that we're messing up on right now and just show that we're a good team."

That infraction opened the door for Corey Peabody, who pulled away from the start of the heat and cruised to victory aboard the U-9 Beacon Plumbing. The Gold Cup win was the second of his career.

“It’s never not a big deal. That’s the Gold Cup over there. People go their whole careers without winning one and that’s my second one,” Peabody said. “I know Bill Cahill (owner of Beacon Plumbing and Electric) is at home crapping his pants right now. Bill, that one was for you. We talked to him right before that heat and told him what we were going to do and we delivered.”

Peabody battled with teammate Kelly for two laps before pulling away and taking control of the race. By lap three, Peabody was in cruise control and Kelly settled for second.

Chris Denslow/H1 Unlimited

Andrew Tate steers the U-91 Goodman Real Estate/Miss Madison on Mission Bay in San Deigo on Sunday. Tate clinched the team’s 12th National High Points Championship but was disqualified in the APBA Gold Cup final won by Cory Peabody and the Beacon Electric.

“Actually (J. Michael Kelly) is the one that I hate racing against the most because we’re sitting in the same truck, talking about the same stuff and I know his boat’s fast,” said Peabody, who also serves as team manager for Strong Racing Team. “It’s nerve-wracking when I have to race against him.

We drove hard. The Beacon boats came out one-two and that’s pretty damn good.”

Jamie Nilsen finished third in the U-11 Miss Mercurys Coffee, a strong finish after a rough week-end which saw the boat fail to finish two preliminary heats.

Dustin Echols was fourth in the U-40 Flav-R-Pac after getting a penalty for pushing Tate off the course late in the final heat, Dave Villwock and the U-27 Miss Apollo started the final heat but did not finish.

With only six boats, the race weekend was run as a six-heat round-robin. Tate won three heats with Peabody, Kelly and Echols each claiming one heat win each.

The event wraps up the 2024 H1 Unlimited campaign. Tate (Guntersville and Madison) and Peabody (Tri-Cities and San Diego) each won two races on the season with Kelly (Seattle) winning one. Tate finished with 7,419 season points, far ahead of Peabody’s 6,050. Echols was third with 5,151 points.

Kentucky was the aggressor for the first 30-plus minutes, building a 6-3 halftime lead off Raynor’s first two field goals. The Wildcats also outgained the Bulldogs 130-63 by the break, nothing great, but a huge improvement from last week’s lackluster 183-yard outing. They were outgained 199-124 after halftime. “Give them credit. They made more plays than us,” Kentucky coach Mark Stoops said.
